DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-19 are pending in the application.

Allowed Claims

Claims 1-19 are allowable over the prior art of record.

Reason For Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicants' claim process for producing dihydroxydiphenylsulfone comprising the step of dissolving or suspending crude dihydroxydiphenylsulfone containing trihydroxytriphenylsulfone in an aqueous solvent; wherein all the variables are as defined in the claims was neither found to be obvious nor anticipated by the prior art of record.

The closest prior art is Pabst et al., {WO 2001079163, which is US 6,700,020}. Pabst et al. teach a process for producing 4,4'-dihydroxydiphenylsulfone comprising reacting phenol with sulfonating agent, suspending the resulting crude product in water heated to at least 40°C, which is free of inert organic solvents, which can contain residual amounts of unreacted phenol, and filtering off the product. The resulting waste stream containing the educt and/or product is return to the production process. See US 6,700,020, column 1, lines 5-27. Pabst et al. process differs from applicants claimed process in that applicants claimed process involves the production of dihydroxydiphenylsulfone from a mixture of dihydroxydiphenylsulfone and trihydroxytriphenylsulfone whereas Pabst et al. process involves the production of 4,4'-dihydroxydiphenylsulfone from a reaction mixture of a phenol and a sulfonating agent.

Art Unit: 1621

These differences are not readily apparent and would not have been suggested to one of ordinary skill.

A further search of the prior art failed to uncover any reference that teaches or motivates one of ordinary skill to disclose a process for producing dihydroxydiphenylsulfone from a mixture of dihydroxydiphenylsulfone and trihydroxytriphenylsulfone in an aqueous solvent as claimed by applicants.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance".
